The code repository for Officium (team 2) has been fully set up. We are using git for version control and GitHub to host the repository. The GitHub repository has been set to be private. All six team members have full editing privileges, in addition to our Project Coordinator, Megan Walsh. All of our documentation including the Project Charter and Product Backlog has been uploaded to the “documents” directory.

We have also set up our Firebase and all of the group members have editing privileges. The Firebase project has been setup using the free Spark plan, which should provide sufficient usage limits to develop, test, and demonstrate Officium .
